February 15th

I will not think about work.
I will relax.
I will lie here in the sun and my mind will be a blank.

It's very hard, though, to relax after spending the last 8 years thinking about nothing but my catering business! But even I can't resist the charms of this idyllic island for long.

February 16th

I think I have a secret admirer. I was basking by the pool when the waiter appeared bearing a tall glass of iced tea, compliments of a gentleman. Romance is the last thing on my mind ... all I want to do is relax!

20610377753

February 17th

A bottle of champagne was sent to my table tonight. Bryan, the waiter, won't tell me who the mystery man is, but he did tell me lots of interesting stories about the island. I hope he didn't get into trouble for talking to me for so long.

February 20th

My room is filled with the delicate scent of flowers. Bryan delivered a huge bouquet earlier, once again, compliments of my mystery man. Bryan knows the local nursery where they were grown and has offered to take me there tomorrow. If my secret admirer won't come forward, I'll just have to find him myself.

February 21st

I've had one of the most fantastic days of my life. On the way to the nursery we beachcombed and Bryan taught me how to

20610377753

Source: https://www.industrydocuments.ucsf.edu/docs/lhfp0003